

Join our guest speakers event

At Dorchester Collection Academy we regularly host a variety of thought-provoking speaker events, designed to engage and inspire individuals working in the luxury sector. These events are delivered by our most influential leaders at Dorchester Collection and other leading figures across different business sectors. All the speakers are experts in their field, discussing key topics to help others build on their own careers.

We're proud to present our first 2019 speaker event with Dorchester Collection's Ana Brant, director, global guest experience & innovation, and Eugenio Pirri, chief people & culture officer, together with Dorchester Collection Academy's global director, Beth Aarons.
